

MANY HOLD NEW SCHOOL BUS LAW CAUSES DANGER

Adams county's experiences with the new school bus law apparently differ in some measure from the findings in some other counties, according to an Associated Press survey made throughout the state.

The state survey shows that school districts and motorists are for the most part cooperating with the new law, the AP reported.

Adams county school directors, bus drivers and school officials would place the cooperation on the part of motorists in connection the law stating they must stop whenever a school bus stops at less than 50 per cent.

Worse Than Before

Borough Superintendent of Schools Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe recently questioned the school bus drivers who deliver children to the local high school. They told him that probably less than 50 per cent of the motorists stop, as required by law, when school buses stop to discharge or load children. The bus drivers claimed that more out-of-state drivers obey the law than Pennsylvania drivers and added that the condition is no improvement on the previous situation when cars did not have to stop. Now the youngsters must be doubly cautious because they don't know if cars will stop or not. Previously they knew that the cars would not and could act accordingly, the drivers said.

County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh commented that the setting up of school bus stops, as outlined by the new law, will cause a larger number of children to walk on highways, thus possibly leading to a more dangerous situation than now obtains. At present the buses stop at the homes of children along the way and at the intersections with country roads and lanes. As a result only a few must walk on the main highways for any distance. Under the proposed plan of setting aside certain bus stop areas most children will have to walk from their homes to the bus stop.

'Impossible To Make It Work'

Adams county districts have not as yet complied with the law concerning placing of bus stop signs and selection of bus stops. That work will probably be done this summer after local educators learn from the state full details concerning where the stops are to be located and how the signs marking them are to be placed.

The Associated Press story noted that Adams county fears that the law may cause some additional complications and dangers are mild compared to the opinion of the law as expressed by Dean Gable, in charge of school safety patrol work for the Lancaster Automobile club.

"It's just impossible to make the law work," the AP said Gable claimed. It added that he also argued that "the law has increased highway hazards for both the school children and motorists."

So ineffective is the plan in Lancaster county, Gable continued, that school patrol instructors are telling children not to depend on motorists stopping for them when they alight from a bus. They are told, he said, to cross highways only when the way is clear.

He said for example some bus stops are on sharp curves which do not give motorists enough advance warning to stop effectively in time, raising the danger of a rear-end collision with buses.

Races For Train; Dies Under Wheels

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—A dash for a subway train ended in death under the train's wheels for Charles J. Hovland, 32, police reported.

The motorman, however, heard the man's screams as he fell to the tracks and brought his train to a halt before it cleared the station platform.

Hovland's body lay between the tracks, his head virtually severed.

Truck Driver Dies And Vehicle Crashes

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—A 49-year-old truck driver apparently died of a heart attack shortly before his vehicle collided with another trailer-truck, police reported.

The collection, which includes rare minerals from all parts of the world, is said to be one of the largest of its kind. It became available to Gettysburg college when the directors of the Alexander Hamilton Memorial Free Library of Waynesboro voted not to accept the collection.

Members of the board said they were forced to take this action due to inadequate facilities of the present library to house an exhibit of the size and value of the Shank collection.

Have No Facilities

Mr. Shank's will stipulated that the collection was to be placed in the Yost property in Waynesboro which was given to the borough by the will of the late Mrs. I. E. Yost. Due to lack of funds the borough and the library board have been unable to convert the Yost property into an adequate library building.

According to the terms of the Shank will, the action of the library board makes the collection available to the college here. Mr. Shank, a native of Waynesboro, was born October 10, 1888. After his graduation from Gettysburg college he became owner and director of the Waynesboro Laboratories. He was also a director of the Landis Machine company and the First National Bank and Trust company. In college he was a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

OFFICIALS OF TOWNSHIPS AT SESSIONS HERE

The possibility that many miles of road now under the state highway system may be returned to the control of township supervisors was revealed this morning by H. A. Thomson, secretary of the State Association of Township supervisors, at the 32nd annual convention of the Adams county Township Road Supervisors, Auditors, Assessors and Tax Collectors association being held today at the court house.

Thomson said testimony and findings before a special legislative committee which will report next year indicate that the group will probably recommend that in the interests of efficiency and economy some of the more than 41,000 miles of road maintained by the state be returned to the townships.

"If this occurs we don't propose to refuse to take this responsibility," Thomson said. He added that the state association of supervisors will fight however to have a permanent allocation of funds made to the townships to cover the cost of maintaining the additional road so that the work can be carried on without imposing additional taxes on the people of the townships.

Judge Sheely Speaks

Thomson was one of a number of speakers at the morning session. Judge W. C. Sheely, who gave the address of welcome, noted that "the people demand more and more efficiency from us as their elected officials." Meetings such as the annual convention of the supervisors help to increase that efficiency, he added.

"When we speak of the danger of centralization we usually think of the national government," the local jurist continued, "but there is also an increasing centralization of power at Harrisburg. Some good is gained from much of this centralization; but there are also some dangers. (Please Turn to Page 2)

COLLEGE WILL RECEIVE BOOKS, RARE MINERALS

Gettysburg college will receive the large mineral collection and technical library of the late John Jay Shank, wealthy Waynesboro industrialist, who died several months ago. He received his B.S. degree at Gettysburg in 1921.

The collection, which includes rare minerals from all parts of the world, is said to be one of the largest of its kind. It became available to Gettysburg college when the directors of the Alexander Hamilton Memorial Free Library of Waynesboro voted not to accept the collection.

Members of the board said they were forced to take this action due to inadequate facilities of the present library to house an exhibit of the size and value of the Shank collection.

Have No Facilities

Mr. Shank's will stipulated that the collection was to be placed in the Yost property in Waynesboro which was given to the borough by the will of the late Mrs. I. E. Yost. Due to lack of funds the borough and the library board have been unable to convert the Yost property into an adequate library building.

According to the terms of the Shank will, the action of the library board makes the collection available to the college here. Mr. Shank, a native of Waynesboro, was born October 10, 1898. After his graduation from Gettysburg college he became owner and director of the Waynesboro Laboratories. He was also a director of the Landis Machine company and the First National Bank and Trust company. In college he was a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

OFFICIALS OF TOWNSHIPS AT SESSIONS HERE

The possibility that many miles of road now under the state highway system may be returned to the control of township supervisors was revealed this morning by H. A. Thomson, secretary of the State Association of Township supervisors, at the 32nd annual convention of the Adams county Township Road Supervisors, Auditors, Assessors and Tax Collectors association being held today at the court house.

Thomson said testimony and findings before a special legislative committee which will report next year indicate that the group will probably recommend that in the interests of efficiency and economy some of the more than 41,000 miles of road maintained by the state be returned to the townships.

"If this occurs we don't propose to refuse to take this responsibility," Thomson said. He added that the state association of supervisors will fight however to have a permanent allocation of funds made to the townships to cover the cost of maintaining the additional road so that the work can be carried on without imposing additional taxes on the people of the townships.

Judge Sheely Speaks

Thomson was one of a number of speakers at the morning session.

Judge W. C. Sheely, who gave the address of welcome, noted that "the people demand more and more efficiency from us as their elected officials." Meetings such as the annual convention of the supervisors help to increase that efficiency, he added.

"When we speak of the danger of centralization we usually think of the national government," the local jurist continued, "but there is also an increasing centralization of power at Harrisburg. Some good is gained from much of this centralization; but there are also some dangers."

News Briefs

Jerusalem, Dec. 14 (P)—Premier David Ben-Gurion arrived today in Jerusalem to set up his government in the disputed Holy City in defiance of a United Nations plan for internationalization. The silver-haired, 64-year-old chief of government arrived just before noon, without fanfare or ceremony, drove to a hotel where the flag of Israel was hoisted, and began an informal conference with his ministers and officials.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Dec. 14 (P)—Traicho Kostov, former deputy premier, and 10 other defendants waited in a Sofia jail today for a Bulgarian federal court to sentence them for treason. The verdict is expected sometime today or tomorrow. The trial came to a close abruptly yesterday after a second attempt by Kostov to repudiate the charges against him went unheard.

Washington, Dec. 14 (P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today the greatest concern of the voters is "the size of the public debt and the spending policy of the government."

This was his finding after a 13-week campaign in which he covered 75 Ohio counties. Taft said in a statement from his office here that he is convinced there is no "slide toward Socialism" among his constituents.

Kelso, Wash., Dec. 14 (P)—Authorities expressed doubt today that a 16-year-old Girl Scout who vanished Sunday in a jungle-like Washington forest will be found alive. A seven square mile mountain sector has been criss-crossed scores of times by 500 men on an organized search. Their work has turned up no tangible clue to the fate of Ruth Aberle.

U.S. BACKS UP SHARP ASSAULT ON BULGARIA

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Washington, Dec. 13 (AP) — The United States today backed up a sharp new denunciation of Communist Bulgaria with an implied threat to break off diplomatic relations entirely.

Protesting against attacks on U. S. Minister Donald R. Heath, the State Department declared the legation at Sofia is being subjected to such restrictions and indignities that it has virtually ceased to function.

Undersecretary James E. Webb called into question "the Bulgarian government's intentions with respect to the maintenance of normal relations between the two countries."

The prospect of a possible first open break between the United States and one of the Soviet bloc government flared last night.

Webb then summoned Dr. Peter Voutov, top Bulgarian representative in Washington, to the State Department for a stiff and forceful lecture.

The occasion was the publication of charges in the government-controlled Communist press in Sofia. The articles said that both the State Department and Heath deliberately lied in denying the minister had ever even seen Traicho Kostov, former vice premier who is the No. 1 defendant in the current Sofia "purge" trial.

One article, signed by the political department of the Bulgarian foreign office, accused the U. S. government of engaging in spying and subversive activity through official representatives.

Future Uncertain
These most recent actions, the State Department said, "are not an isolated development." It noted that for some time the legation "has been subjected to a series of indignities and restrictions including false charges against American officials, intimidation and persecution of local Bulgarian employees, refusal to issue visas to personnel assigned to the legation, and various restrictions on travel and housing.

The department reported that aside from questioning whether Bulgaria wants to continue normal relations, Webb said that the U. S. "takes a most serious view of such deliberate actions which must inevitably affect relations between the two countries."

He said that the Bulgarian government has an "apparent intention to disregard international law and comity in conducting its relations with the United States."

Whether all this means that Heath may actually be recalled and that the U. S. will tell Bulgaria to close down its small legation in Washington was left unanswered.

LOCAL LEAGUE OPENS SEASON THIS THURSDAY

The Community Basketball league, sponsored by the Recreation Association, will open its season Thursday evening with a pair of games on the Gettysburg high school floor.

At 7:15 the Motor Marketers will meet the Glenn L. Bream garage and at 8:30 the Texas Lunch will clash with the Dorsey-Stanton Legion.

The league will be composed of the following teams: Texas Lunch; Dorsey-Stanton Legion; Glenn L. Bream garage and Motor Marketers.

At a recent meeting it was decided to play four rounds during the season with a double elimination playoff. Abe Hankey, George Gorman and Ken Fair were approved as referees and Pete Wise was selected as the official scorer and timer.

Rosters, which become final prior to games on January 9, were approved as follows:

Texas Lunch, Jack Taylor, manager, Bob Fryling, Sefton Eisenhart, Joe Leckrone, Harold Small, Dick Shaffer, Jack Cromwell, Bob Saylor, Donald Sterner and Bill Ogden; Dorsey-Stanton Legion, Joseph Wansel, manager, Charles Myers, Joseph Carter, Samuel Stanton, George Miller, Raymond Carter, William Carter, William Tonsel and Eugene Timbers; Glenn L. Eligibility for play requires a player either to live in the area served by the Gettysburg high school system or to work regularly in the same area, and, to be eligible, a player must also have just reason to call the area his home, aside from the reason of pursuing a college education.

GOP AGREES ON NEW STRATEGY

Chicago, Dec. 14 (AP)—Republican party strategy leaders were reported agreed today that the GOP must shed "me-tooism" and give the voters a "clear choice" on 1950 election issues.

Arthur E. Summerfield, Michigan national committeeman, voiced the view. He said the GOP national strategy committee which he heads is in general agreement with him.

The strategy group, in a one-day closed meeting yesterday, took no formal stand on policy. That is a matter left up to a policy group not yet named and eventually to be decided by the party's national committee in January or February.

But the strategists were said to feel that any campaign plans they recommend for local party workers depend a great deal on a "clear-cut, positive" set of principles.

In effect, Summerfield's declaration suggested that GOP success next year and Guy Gabrielson's future as the party's national chairman hinge more on what the party offers—and how soon—than on how it goes about offering it to the voters.

Gabrielson, who has some critics in the 23-member strategy group, promised to get busy.

Furthermore, according to law, you may be subjected to fines of $25.00 for each tree or shrub damaged or removed, not only from private woodlots, but from State Forest lands as well.

16 INDONESIAN STATES SIGN CONSTITUTION

By KENNETH LIKES

Batavia, Java, Dec. 14 (AP)—Representatives of 16 Indonesian states and territories signed tonight a constitution which will join them in an independent United States of Indonesia, sovereign though linked with the Dutch crown.

The constitution becomes effective the moment the Netherlands transfers sovereignty, probably December 27, surrendering the fabulously rich islands after 300 years of Dutch rule. Within two weeks the constitution probably will become the supreme law of a new nation of 77,000,000 people in the southwest Pacific.

The constitution sets up a federal state patterned after European democracies. Government power will be exercised by the president and his ministers, along with a house of representatives and a senate.

To Choose President

The constitution calls for the selection of a president by deputies from each of the 16 states. An electoral body already has been formed and is scheduled to pick the chief of state Saturday at Jogjakarta, Java. The president will choose three cabinet members, who, in turn, will select three others. The government, in abbreviated form, is scheduled to accept sovereignty December 27 and go ahead later with formation of the senate, house, and other organs of government.

The Dutch-Indonesian independence agreement, signed six weeks ago in The Hague, was ratified by the parliament of the independent Indonesian republic, largest of the group which will make up the U. S. I. Previously the 15 federal, Dutch-sponsored Indonesian states and the lower house of the Netherlands parliament approved the agreement. The parliaments of all the states also ratified the draft constitution.

Negotiations for the granting of sovereignty to the people of this group of fabulously rich islands began early in 1942. They were interrupted by the Japanese invasion of the islands. After the war the negotiations, although resumed, were marked by bloody fighting between Dutch troops and Indonesian Republicans before the United Nations stepped in early this year and demanded a truce and peaceful talks.

ENGINE FAILED BEFORE CRASH

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Officials investigating the crash of a Capital Airlines plane studied a crew member's report today that an engine failed just before the plane plunged into the Potomac river Monday night.

The probe was started by the Civil Aeronautics board within a few hours of the crash, which killed four persons including the pilot and co-pilot. There were 19 survivors.

The crackup occurred while the twin-engine DC-3 was trying with the help of radar to feel its way into National airport through a heavy fog. Technicians said the plane veered off the radar screen as it approached the field. It was found in the river shortly afterward.

The only surviving crew member, flight attendant Joseph W. Buell, Jr., related: "We started a climb to the left at about 300 feet high. The starboard engine sputtered—I think it quit completely—then we spun off to the left."

Buell's story supported another indication that Pilot William J. Davis was attempting to regain altitude for another landing attempt when the crash occurred near Bolling Air Force Base—across the Potomac from the Commercial airport. The other sign that Davis had changed his mind about an immediate landing was a report that the shattered aircraft's wheels were drawn up in flying position—which would not have been the case if the pilot had planned to land.

Gets Life Term For Murder Of Divorcee

Lancaster, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—Jacob R. Buck, 32-year old former Columbia, Pa., factory worker, faces the prospect of spending the remainder of his life in prison.

Buck was convicted of first degree murder yesterday in the killing of Mrs. Martha McCormsey, 26-year old Columbia divorcee.

The jury of 11 men and one woman deliberated only one hour and 25 minutes. Judge Joseph B. Wissler immediately sentenced Buck to life imprisonment in the Eastern penitentiary.

The body of Mrs. McCormsey, first through to be a victim of suicide by drowning, was found on the bank of the Susquehanna river, a short distance from her home, last August 29.

Buck, who reported "finding" the body to Columbia authorities, subsequently was arraigned on a murder charge. The state admitted in evidence a signed confession, purportedly signed by Buck, in which he allegedly admitted holding Mrs. McCormsey's head under water for 15 or 20 minutes.

Russian Failures Possible: Hoffman

Cleveland, Dec. 14 (AP)—If Russia fails to gain control of western Europe, she will lose her holdings in eastern Europe and may even cease herself to be a "slave state," Paul G. Hoffman predicts.

The chief of the economic cooperation administration told a Cleveland council of world affairs audience of 1,400 last night:

"X X X if western Europe, instead of falling under the domination of the Kremlin, remains free and becomes strong and prosperous, if we in the United States remain strong and prosperous, and if the free peoples of the world remain united x x x it is my belief that not only will the evil plans of the men of the Kremlin for world conquest fail, but they will fail so utterly that Russia herself will cease to be a slave state."

"I believe this because I cannot see how the Kremlin can ever hold what she has now, unless western Europe is brought into her orbit. She needs not only the steel, coal, and oil of western Europe and the Near East, but, more importantly, she needs the skills of the western Europeans."

You as supervisors are elected to do a job, and so you are responsible. And as responsible officials it is important that your voice be heard in any question pertaining to your township. There is another danger in centralization. And that is the obvious fact that the man on the scene knows more concerning the needs of his district than any man far removed."

Hear Legislators

State Senator Donald P. McPherson, Jr., reported on activities at the recent legislature session. He also urged all residents of the two counties which he represents to discuss with him proposed legislation, "that I may truly serve as your representative in the Senate and know what you want from the legislature."

George Potts, president of the state supervisors' association, urged the supervisors, auditors, tax collectors and assessors to "send your idea in to the state organization. We want those ideas, because 4,500 township officials can provide many more good ideas than a few of us in the executive committee."

Assemblyman Francis Worley told the group that he was running for Congress at the next election and asked their support. No Adams count has been elected to congress since 1914, he said.

Committees Named

The state association secretary in the course of his talk urged the township supervisors, in townships where a fire company is located, to name one man as fire committee chairman with authority to deal with the fire company. Under new law, he said, the supervisors have the right to order the fire companies to certain duties, such as parades, rescuing people and other duties. When so ordered, the regular township compensation policy covers the firemen as township employees. Thus that protection can be granted to the firemen for their duties other than fire, Thompson said. Previously the firemen were covered only during actual fire fighting.

President Glenn Jacobs, East Berlin R. 1 appointed the following committees: nominating, Maurice M. Sterner, Biglerville R. 1; J. Monroe Nell, New Oxford R. 2, and Frank E. Miller, Gettysburg R. 3; resolutions, Zeal Peters, Aspers R. 1; Lewis E. Bair, Littlestown R. 2, and Harvey T. Walter, Gettysburg R. 2. The Rev. Samuel Clark, New Chester, gave the invocation.

WARRIORS DROP INITIAL GAME TO YORK 28-25

Gettysburg high dropped its first basketball game of the season Tuesday night when York high upset the Warriors 28-25 on the York floor before a large crowd.

Both teams missed many comparatively easy shots throughout the evening with a low score resulting. There was little to choose between the teams and the outcome was in doubt until the final whistle.

York, Eastern PIAA titlist last year, got off to an 8-5 edge in the opening period. Gettysburg's tallies came on goals by Sachs and Davis and a free throw by Kuhn. Rohrbaugh chased a pair of goals and Gowell and Holman each single shots to give the White Roses their advantage.

Coach Forney's lads picked up somewhat in the second stanza and pulled to even terms at 13-all at half time. Kuhn connected for a pair of goals, Davis a goal and foul, and Sachs a foul in the round.

Lose Shooting Eyes
The Warriors bogged down badly in the third period when the game was actually lost. At one point of the period Gettysburg missed no less than 12 straight shots at the meshes before York was able to make a stab. Ford tabbed the only Gettysburg goal during the entire period. Coach Cockley's outfit assumed a 22-15 margin going into the final period.

Again in the final period the Forney-men spurred on goals by Deardorff, Ford, Kuhn, Harriel and Sachs but York staved off the rally to protect its narrow lead.

Leo Kuhn played his best game, showing plenty of speed and fine work under the baskets. He topped the locals with seven tallies. Soapy Davis was also a stellar performer under the hoops but injured his ankle in the second period which slowed him up the remainder of the contest.

Play Here Friday
The Warrior Jayvees were out-clasped by the York Scrubs and lost the preliminary game 33-13. York led 21-7 at half time.

On Friday the Warriors meet the fast stepping St. Francis team on the local floor.

Lebanon Valley 5 Here This Evening

Victors in two of three games in which they tallied a total of 227 points for an average of 75.7 per game, the Lebanon Valley college basketball team comes here tonight to meet the Gettysburg college five in the college gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

The Flying Dutchmen are reported to have one of their finest teams in history and are confident of the ability to halt the Bullets.

Gettysburg has split even in four outings and tonight hopes to hit the stride expected of them for the current campaign.

CANNERS SCORE TWIN TRIUMPH

Coach Gene Haas' courtmen opened their basketball slate on a highly successful note as they swept by the Quincy aggregation 46 to 23 in an encounter Tuesday evening in the Musselman Memorial gymnasium. The Canners had the ball swishing through the cords right from the start and were never seriously threatened.

Rice racked up three field goals in the first frame, one on a long pass from Heller, and Heller pushed in two twin pointers from near the goal. D. Lawver, Kookan, Spicer and Pitzer padded field goals. Two completed fouls by Spicer and Heller swelled the first quarter total to 20 points. Against this scoring spree Quincy was able only to sink two foul shots.

Quincy's big push came in the second quarter when J. Fry came through with four field goals to spark the Quincy cagers as they cut the Canners lead to 26-17 at half time.

Pitzer started the third frame as he took the tip-off, dribbled down the middle, and flipped the ball through the rim for a counter. Spicer and Rice added tallies while Heller and L. Lawver netted two foul shots. Quincy's only third quarter score came on a foul shot by D. Fry.

In the final frame Quincy was again out-pointed 12 to 5 as Howe, L. Lawver, Kookan, and Pitzer racked up field goals while Orner, Kint and Pitzer tossed in four fouls. Quincy was forced to play at a disadvantage throughout part of the final frame as Butts and McKinstry were eliminated on fouls.

Biglerville held the edge in controlling the backboards, a factor which aided them in winning. Several times a fast break and good passing proved effective for the Canners.

In the preliminary game Biglerville's junior varsity held the Quincy boys scoreless until the final quarter when Brown managed to sink a field goal. Four minute quarters were used and Biglerville won easily 20 to 2.

On Friday Biglerville will play at Washington township.

Thunderbolts Split Games

The Littlestown high cagers opened their season Tuesday evening by dividing a pair of games with New Windsor at Littlestown.

Clay Evans' boys team encountered little trouble in winning the feature game 44-11. After getting off to a 14-2 lead in the first period the Thunderbolts piled up a 30-3 margin at half time to win as they pleased. Koons, Littlestown center, rammed 12 points through the hoops to pace the winners.

In the preliminary game the New Windsor girls amassed a 20-11 lead at half time and fought off a determined Littlestown second half rally to eke out a 35-33 decision. Warner, Plunkert and Yealy led the attack for Littlestown with Young and Blankenstein topping the New Windsor offense. Inability to score from the foul line proved costly to the Littlestown girls.

Next Tuesday Littlestown will meet the Westminster cagers at Littlestown.

THUNDERBOLTS SPLIT GAMES

The Littlestown high cagers opened their season Tuesday evening by dividing a pair of games with New Windsor at Littlestown.

Clay Evans' boys team encountered little trouble in winning the feature game 44-11. After getting off to a 14-2 lead in the first period the Thunderbolts piled up a 30-3 margin at half time to win as they pleased. Koons, Littlestown center, rammed 12 points through the hoops to pace the winners.

In the preliminary game the New Windsor girls amassed a 20-11 lead at half time and fought off a determined Littlestown second half rally to eke out a 35-33 decision. Warner, Plunkert and Yealy led the attack for Littlestown with Young and Blankenstein topping the New Windsor offense. Inability to score from the foul line proved costly to the Littlestown girls.

Next Tuesday Littlestown will meet the Westminster cagers at Littlestown.

The league will be composed of the following teams: Texas Lunch; Dorsey-Stanton Legion; Glenn L. Bream garage and Motor Marketers.

At a recent meeting it was decided to play four rounds during the season with a double elimination playoff. Abe Hankey, George Gorman and Ken Fair were approved as referees and Pete Wise was selected as the official scorer and timer.

Rosters, which become final prior to games on January 9, were approved as follows:

Texas Lunch, Jack Taylor, manager, Bob Frying, Sifton Eisenhart, Joe Lackrone, Harold Small, Dick Shaffer, Jack Cromwell, Bob Saylor, Donald Sterner and Bill Ogden; Dorsey-Stanton Legion, Joseph Wansel, manager, Charles Myers, Joseph Carter, Samuel Stanton, George Miller, Raymond Carter, William Carter, William Tonsel and Eugene Timbers; Glenn L. Eligibility for play requires a player either to live in the area served by the Gettysburg high school system or to work regularly in the same area, and, to be eligible, a player must also have just reason to call the area his home, aside from the reason of pursuing a college education.

GOP AGREES ON NEW STRATEGY

Chicago, Dec. 14 (AP)—Republican party strategy leaders were reported agreed today that the GOP must shed "me-tooism" and give the voters a "clear choice" on 1950 election issues.

Arthur E. Summerfield, Michigan national committeeman, voiced the view. He said the GOP national strategy committee which he heads is in general agreement with him.

The strategy group, in a one-day closed meeting yesterday, took no formal stand on policy. That is a matter left up to a policy group not yet named and eventually to be decided by the party's national committee in January or February.

But the strategists were said to feel that any campaign plans they recommend for local party workers depend a great deal on a "clear-cut, positive" set of principles.

In effect, Summerfield's declaration suggested that GOP success next year and Guy Gabrielson's future as the party's national chairman hinge more on what the party offers—and how soon—than on how it goes about offering it to the voters.

Gabrielson, who has some critics in the 23-member strategy group, promised to get busy.

Roadside Xmas Tree Cutting Is Illegal

Don't risk a fine or imprisonment by cutting your Christmas tree from some roadside forest, the Department of Forests and Waters warned today.

You may not only incur the wrath of a private landowner, officials in the Department point out, but you will also be violating the law and be subjected to a $25.00 fine or imprisonment in the county jail for the day for each dollar of fine and costs not paid.

Furthermore, according to law, you may be subjected to fines of $25.00 for each tree or shrub damaged or removed, not only from private woodlots, but from State lands as well.

16 INDONESIAN STATES SIGN CONSTITUTION

By KENNETH LIKES

Batavia, Java, Dec. 14 (AP)—Representatives of 16 Indonesian states and territories signed tonight a constitution which will join them in an independent United States of Indonesia, sovereign though linked with the Dutch crown.

The constitution becomes effective the moment the Netherlands transfers sovereignty, probably December 27, surrendering the fabulously rich islands after 300 years of Dutch rule. Within two weeks the constitution probably will become the supreme law of a new nation of 77,000,000 people in the southwest Pacific.

The constitution sets up a federal state patterned after European democracies. Government power will be exercised by the president and his ministers, along with a house of representatives and a senate.

To Choose President

The constitution calls for the selection of a president by deputies from each of the 16 states. An electoral body already has been formed and is scheduled to pick the chief of state Saturday at Jogjakarta, Java. The president will choose three cabinet members, who, in turn, will select three others. The government, in abbreviated form, is scheduled to accept sovereignty December 27 and go ahead later with formation of the senate, house, and other organs of government.

The Dutch-Indonesian independence agreement, signed six weeks ago in The Hague, was ratified by the parliament of the independent Indonesian republic, largest of the group which will make up the U. S. I. Previously the 15 federal, Dutch-sponsored Indonesian states and the lower house of the Netherlands parliament approved the agreement. The parliaments of all the states also ratified the draft constitution.

Negotiations for the granting of sovereignty to the people of this group of fabulously rich islands began early in 1942. They were interrupted by the Japanese invasion of the islands. After the war the negotiations, although resumed, were marked by bloody fighting between Dutch troops and Indonesian Republicans before the United Nations stepped in early this year and demanded a truce and peaceful talks.

ENGINE FAILED BEFORE CRASH

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Officials investigating the crash of a Capital Airlines studied a crew member's report today that an engine failed just before the plane plunged into the Potomac river Monday night.

The probe was started by the Civil Aeronautics board within a few hours of the crash, which killed four persons including the pilot and co-pilot. There were 19 survivors.

The crackup occurred while the twin-engine DC-3 was trying with the help of radar to feel its way into National airport through a heavy fog. Technicians said the plane veered off the radar screen as it approached the field. It was found in the river shortly afterward.

The only surviving crew member, flight attendant Joseph W. Buell, Jr., related: "We started a climb to the left at about 300 feet high. The starboard engine sputtered—I think it quit completely—then we spun off to the left."

Buell's story supported another indication that Pilot William J. Davis was attempting to regain altitude for another landing attempt when the crash occurred near Bolling Air Force Base—across the Potomac from the Commercial airport. The other sign that Davis had changed his mind about an immediate landing was a report that the shattered aircraft's wheels were drawn up in flying position—which would not have been the case if the pilot had planned to land.

Man Gets Life For Love Tryst Slaying

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—Frank M. Laddon, 34, has been sentenced to life imprisonment for the tryst slaying of Mrs. Edna Mae Brown, 26. Laddon was sentenced by a panel of three judges yesterday. He had interrupted his trial on Monday to plead guilty to a charge of murder in Mrs. Brown's death.

After the plea, police investigators testified Mrs. Brown's throat was cut in a quarrel after she threatened to return to her husband during a rooming house tryst with Laddon on Nov. 28, 1948.

Factory Worker Dies In 16-foot Plunge

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—A 16-foot plunge through an open trapdoor killed Kenneth Luckman, 36-year-old factory worker, police reported.

Luckman had just contacted a conveyor-belt system at the H. P. Morris Co. yesterday when the accident occurred.

He stepped through an opening left by the trap door that had been pushed upward by a fellow employee who was unaware of his presence as he turned to walk away from the switch, police said.

Gets Life Term For Murder Of Divorcee

Lancaster, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—Jacob R. Buck, 32-year old former Columbia, Pa., factory worker, faces the prospect of spending the remainder of his life in prison.

Buck was convicted of first degree murder yesterday in the killing of Mrs. Martha McComsey, 26-year old Columbia divorcee.

The jury of 11 men and one woman deliberated only one hour and 25 minutes. Judge Joseph B. Wissler immediately sentenced Buck to life imprisonment in the Eastern penitentiary.

The body of Mrs. McComsey, first through to be a victim of suicide by drowning, was found on the bank of the Susquehanna river, a short distance from her home, last August 29.

Buck, who reported "finding" the body to Columbia authorities, subsequently was arraigned on a murder charge. The state admitted in evidence a signed confession, purportedly signed by Buck, in which he allegedly admitted holding Mrs. McComsey's head under water for 15 or 20 minutes.

Russian Failures Possible: Hoffman

Cleveland, Dec. 14 (AP)—If Russia fails to gain control of western Europe, she will lose her holdings in eastern Europe and may even cease herself to be a "slave state," Paul G. Hoffman predicts.

The chief of the economic cooperation administration told a Cleveland council of world affairs audience of 1,400 last night:

"X X X If western Europe, instead of falling under the domination of the Kremlin, remains free and becomes strong and prosperous, if we in the United States remain strong and prosperous, and if the free peoples of the world remain united, then Russia herself will cease to be a slave state."

"I believe this because I cannot see how the Kremlin can ever hold what she has now, unless western Europe is brought into her orbit. She needs not only the steel, coal, and oil of western Europe and the Near East, but, more importantly, she needs the skills of the western Europeans."

25 and 26, 1943, papers of the North African edition when it was published at Oran; the September 8 and 10, 1944, numbers of the short-lived Grenoble edition in France, and the September 8, 1943, issue of a 5th Army edition published in a truck in southern Italy when the paper was turned out by a mobile unit.

The 30-odd other editions, ranging from the World War I "Stars and Stripes," published in London, to the Germany and Japan editions still published for occupation forces, are complete.

The S. & S. file was gathered by C. E. Dornbusch, special assistant in government documents and a European theater veteran, who said much of the material was easily collected from available files of the newspaper's many editions, from the New York offices of "Stars and Stripes" and from the Library of Congress.

You as supervisors are elected to do a job, and so you are responsible. And as responsible officials it is important that your voice be heard in any question pertaining to your township. There is another danger in centralization. And that is the obvious fact that the man on the scene knows more concerning the needs of his district than any man far removed."

Hear Legislators

State Senator Donald P. McPherson, Jr., reported on activities at the recent legislature session. He also urged all residents of the two counties which he represents to discuss with him proposed legislation, "that I may truly serve as your representative in the Senate and know what you want from the legislature."

George Potts, president of the state supervisors' association, urged the supervisors, auditors, tax collectors and assessors to "send your idea in to the state organization. We want those ideas, because 4,500 township officials can provide many more good ideas than a few of us in the executive committee."

Assemblyman Francis Worley told the group that he was running for Congress at the next election and asked their support. No Adams count has been elected to congress since 1914, he said.

Committees Named

The state association secretary in the course of his talk urged the township supervisors, in townships where a fire company is located, to name one man as fire committee chairman with authority to deal with the fire company. Under new law, he said, the supervisors have the right to order the fire companies to certain duties, such as parades, rescuing people and other duties. When so ordered, the regular township compensation policy covers the firemen as township employees. Thus that protection can be granted to the firemen for their duties other than fire, Thompson said. Previously the firemen were covered only during actual fire fighting.

President Glenn Jacobs, East Berlin R. 1 appointed the following committees: nominating, Maurice M. Sterner, Biglerville R. 1; J. Monroe Nell, New Oxford R. 2, and Frank E. Miller, Gettysburg R. 3; resolutions, Zeal Peters, Aspers R. 1; Lewis E. Blair, Littlestown R. 2, and Harvey T. Walter, Gettysburg R. 2. The Rev. Samuel Clark, New Chester, gave the invocation.

WHY NOT LETTERS NOW?

The postage stamp and the mailman are two wonder workers—or are potentially so. A letter has often lifted a person right out of himself into a new human being. How mothers and fathers dote upon them when received from those whom they have bred and nourished over the years.

Just before the great Dr. Samuel Johnson died, a letter was handed to him, and he made this remark: "An odd thought strikes me—we shall receive no letters in the grave!" No, the postman doesn't deliver there. But he continually delivers to your home, your office, to your address, no matter where it may be.

This Christmas time is one at which many a letter may be more greatly prized than anything of material value. That letter that you have planned to write for a long, long time, but haven't. In reading one of the delightful essays by David Grayson, I came across a paragraph where he said that he had in mind for a long time to write a letter to a dear friend, whom he had not seen for years, but just as he was about to write that letter he received news that his friend had died!

A college class-mate of mine once told me that he was about to do something that he knew was the wrong thing to do, but was stayed from doing it by a line in a letter that his mother had just written, which said: "Bert, I hope you will never do anything that will make me ashamed of you."

Many a letter, received at an opportune time, has changed the entire course of a life. We think that a letter may have little meaning, but we can't measure in advance how important it may be to the one who receives it. Letters are oneself, more than any other form of expression. That is why it is so important that we send out the best that we are.

What other investment in happiness is there that may prove to pay so much for so little? From youth to old age letters are links to a golden chain of cheer and hope. What a host of them we preserve as treasures, to be read again and again, as the shadows lengthen! Why not that letter now?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Not Obstacles—But Challenges"

SKID ROW
Realm of the spirits broken;
Haunt of the "ceased-to-care,"
Where seldom a word is spoken
Untainted with grim despair.

Skid Row—the hopeless valley
Where pitiful humans stay
Like rubbish that lines an alley,
Which useless, is thrown away.

Region of filth and squalor,
Sick mind and wasted frame.
Spot where the beggar's dollar
Buys only deeper shame.

This is the blight of the city
Where fortune and fame are made;
That only the few will pity,
And only the few will aid.

HEAVIEST TAX HARVEST BEGINS THURSDAY IN U.S.

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—The biggest harvest of the tax season starts tomorrow.

The government expects to reap $15,000,000,000 tax dollars—some 40 per cent of annual revenue—over the next three months.

Corporations must make final payments of tax on 1948 income tomorrow, giving the government its last crack at last year's record high profits. A decline in corporate income tax collections is expected after that, reflecting lower 1949 profits.

The tax focus after tomorrow will be on individuals, who finished 1948 income tax payments last March but in many cases have something to do about 1949 income taxes ahead of the general deadline for paying them next March 15.

Calendar on Taxes
A calendar of dates to remember: January 1—Social security insurance (old age and survivors benefits) taxes increase upon both employers and employees—automatically, too, so there is no immediate return to be filed.

For both employees and employers, the rise will be from 1 to 1½ per cent on wages or salaries up to $3,000. About 39,000,000 workers and 2,700,000 employers will be affected. January 1 also marks the opening of the season for getting refunds on overpayments of 1949 income tax through withholding. About 30,000,000 taxpayers will have a shot at a refund kitty expected to amount to around $150,000,000.

Date for Farmers
The only way to get a refund will be to file a final 1949 income tax return, thereby establishing how much of a refund you've got coming. The quicker you file, the earlier you're likely to get a refund.

January 15—Last day for filing 1949 income tax declarations (estimates), or amending declarations filed earlier to avert a penalty in case the original estimate erred by more than 20 per cent.

For farmers, who have a unique position among taxpayers, this will be the first contact with 1949 taxes. All farmers whose 1949 income exceeded $600 are required to declare the amount they took in.

The farmer so doing will not have to pay the indicated tax until next March 15. A new law passed this year lets the farmer skip a January 15 declaration if he is going to make a final return and pay by January 31, thereby finishing his 1949 income tax duties and debt.

Other Important Dates
Non-farmers filing original or amended (correcting) estimates January 15 have the option of making their final returns and payments on 1949 income taxes then and relieving themselves of further chores March 15.

The non-farmer group required to make declarations includes doctors, lawyers, other professionals, persons owning their own businesses, and higher-bracket salaried workers who pay outside or in addition to taxes withheld from regular pay.

January 31—Deadline for employers to furnish their employees with the tax form (W-2) that shows the workers how much income tax has been withheld from them during 1949.

February 15—First mandatory date for employers to deposit for the government's benefit 1950 withholdings from wages for income taxes and social insurance.

The March 15 Deadline

February 15 also is the deadline for "information returns," which tip the tax collector to various payments not covered by withholding taxes, such as: Rent payments of over $600 during 1949 that were made to an individual landlord (no return required on payments to a corporate landlord or a landlord's agent); wages to house servants which totaled over $600 in 1949 and weren't covered by withholding; corporation payments of over $100 in dividends to individuals, and similar payments for interest or other obligations—a doctor's bill, for example—in excess of $500.

The government checks this information against the income tax reported by those who got the payments. It sometimes catches in this way chiselers who tried to hide out income on their tax returns.

March 15—The deadline not only for 1949 individual income tax payments, but also for initial 1950 income declarations and first quarterly tax payments by individuals subject to declaration requirements; also, for corporations, the beginning of 1949 income tax payments.

FBI Arrest Head Of Counterfeit Ring
New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—FBI agents Monday night arrested the alleged head of a ring accused of producing $1,000,000 worth of counterfeit travelers' checks of the American Express company.

The suspect, seized at his Brooklyn home (667 77th street), was booked as George Gillette, 39, described by the agents as a brother-in-law of Joe Adonis, reputed New York underworld figure.

The agents said counterfeit checks with a face value of $140,000 have been discovered in Los Angeles, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Buffalo and Philadelphia.

will sing the mass. The mass is called "Missa De Nativitate Domini," based on Christmas carols and written by Ernst.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Eyster, Dr. and Mrs. James Allison and Mrs. Edna Guse spent yesterday in Waynesboro.

Bazaar Successful

At the annual Christmas bazaar held by the Elias Lutheran church in the parish house on Saturday there were approximately 350 suppers served and about $406.25 was cleared from suppers and various booths.

The Entre Nous sewing club met Monday at the home of Mrs. Richard Zacharias, West Main street. Those present were Mrs. A. A. Martin, Mrs. Edgar Rhodes, Mrs. Benjamin P. Ogle, Mrs. E. Lewis Higbee, Mrs. J. Wingerd, Mrs. George Eyster and Mrs. Hazel Caldwell.

Mrs. Clair McCafferty, West Main street, spent several days recently at the home of her parents at Allentown, Pa.

The American Legion Auxiliary Christmas party will be held on Tuesday, December 27, at 8 p. m. to 12 at the Swiss Chalet instead of at the White House Inn on December 29.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Weant of Emmitsburg R. D. were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Diller and daughter, Mary Rebecca, of Taneytown; Mr. and Mrs. Upton Dayhoff, of Keystown, Md., and Wilma Gillespie, of near Emmitsburg.

Seek Road Improvements

At the regular meeting of the local Lions club on Monday evening there were eleven guests present. There were six visitors from Hagerstown; Senator Edward Storm, Frederick; O. J. Waybright of near Gettysburg; Capt. H. C. Woodring, Col. Thomas Frailey, and Judge Baker, all of Emmitsburg.

There was a committee appointed by President Robert Daugherty, which consists of E. A. Annan, Jr., Charles Harner and Arthur Elder, who will work with the Thurmont club who plan to seek improvements on Route 15 between Emmitsburg and Thurmont.

Entertainment for the evening was in the form of a humorous mock trial. Abigail of the Emmitsburg Chronicle was on trial. Jacob Baker was the judge, Herbert Rogers, bailiff, and Senator Edward Storm was the prosecuting attorney. Several witnesses were called and cross-examined.

The next regular meeting of the organization will be held the second Monday in January instead of Monday, December 26, which has been called off.

PIAA CENSURES EAST BERLIN HI

East Berlin high was censured for the second time in three years by the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association Monday following a session by the District 3, P.I.A.A. committee at Hershey.

East Berlin dropped from the Little Seven Football Conference (now called the Laurel League) last fall without telling other members of the intent, it was charged by the league members in a protest filed before the committee.

The league, however, had only oral agreements among the schools as concerns schedules. The committee asserted that the P.I.A.A. cannot recognize oral agreements in handling protests.

The P.I.A.A., however, censured East Berlin for failure to notify the association and the district committee of the intent to drop football at the institution.

Several years ago, East Berlin high was involved in another P.I.A.A. scrap. In a contest between East Berlin and Dallastown, an incident happened following the contest involving the officials. A protest was filed against East Berlin on the grounds that the officials were "once again dragging (Finland) into bloody senseless adventures" like the two Finnish-Soviet wars in the last decade.

MACKS, BROWNS COMPLETE BIG BASEBALL DEAL

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—The drowsy winter baseball meetings were slow waking up but when the shot came it was a corker—a deal between the St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia Athletics involving $100,000 and six players.

Connie Mack's pennant-anxious Athletics shelled out the $100,000 plus four players to the Browns to get one of the American league's top infielders, third baseman Bob Dillinger, and a good outfielder, Paul Lehner.

The $100,000 was the welcome part of the deal for the Browns whose president, Bill DeWitt, said, "I can't make any money at the gate. I've got to make it selling my best players."

But the Browns also received veteran third baseman Frank Gustine and three rookies—shortstop Billy Demars and outfielders Ray Coleman and Rocco Ippolito.

The deal, which busted the trading log-jam wide open, was closed shortly before midnight by DeWitt and Earle Mack, Connie's son and coach, who got together at Commissioner A. B. Chandler's dinner for the baseball moguls at a midtown night club.

Two other transactions earlier in the day involving the Boston Braves, Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs were tossed into a subordinate category by this fancy American league swap.

The Braves disposed of two that no law enforcement officers were available for protection. The school was placed on probation by the P.I.A.A.

C. F. Elsenhart, secretary of the district committee, said Tuesday morning that the P.I.A.A. will also censure all members schools of the conference for failing to have all game contracts in writing.

Mr. Elsenhart, who is principal of Steelton high school, said that a three-man sub-committee of the district group investigated the situation and found "that East Berlin was not in a position to continue football."

The three-man committee asserted that "East Berlin had a moral obligation to inform the other conference teams of their intent to drop football."

WOMEN APPLAUD NEW REFRIGERATOR UTILITY

New and delightful refrigerator recipes, as well as new meal-making convenience, are advantages of the new 1950 International Harvester refrigerators. Model U-87, above, has the "Egg-O-Mat," which stores 16 eggs and dispenses one or two at a time. Other conveniences include a space for storage of 12 full quart bottles of milk, a meat tray with 4-inch top clearance to store big roasts, and 35 pounds of frozen food storage.

players, sending pitcher Bill Voiselle to the Cubs for infielder Gene Mauch and cash and handing over outfielder Marv Rickert to the Pirates for "more than $100,000" plus a minor leaguer to be named later.

The Athletics definitely profited, from a material standpoint, in their transaction with the Browns.

Dillinger, bespectacled 31-year-old veteran, batted .324 last season and stole 20 bases to lead the league in that department. Lehner is a fleet, 29-year-old flycatcher with a stout arm.

He hadn't measured up to his supposed capabilities as a Brown, however, batting only .299 while used sparingly during the past campaign.

RAMS HOPE TO SOLVE STRONG EAGLE DEFENSE

Los Angeles, Dec. 14 (AP)—The midnight oil is burning and the day time hours are churning—as Coach Clark Daniel Shaughnessy tries to concoct some magical T-formula to crack the potent defense tactics of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Literally speaking, this is the scene as Shaughnessy and his skilled staff of grid technicians labor almost around the clock preparing the Los Angeles Rams for the struggle with the Eagles here Sunday for the National Football league championship.

No one, Shaughnessy included, is looking down his nose at the offense fashioned by Greasy Neale for the Eagles. Far from that.

But Shaughnessy long has admired the defensive masterminding of the Quaker City coach, and just prior to their regular season game in Philadelphia last November 6, commented:

"You can't tell what that man will throw at you in the way of defenses. I tell you, he's awfully tough."

Tough the Eagles were, too, as they whipped the Rams, 38-14. Comes now the title game, and the Eagles are still very stubborn. They are merely the best defensive club in the league, as the latest statistics disclose, and better than the Rams in all departments.

To make things even rougher, Shaughnessy had hoped to begin preparing for the Philadelphia team two weeks ago, without bothering too much with the Washington Redskins.

The Chicago Cardinals ruined that hope. They beat the Rams in a dramatic last second play, forcing them to go all out in preparations for the Redskins in order to win the Western Division title.

Philadelphia was founded in 1682 by William Penn.

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—John L.

Lewis was taking a personal hand today in contract negotiations between his United Mine Workers and the hard coal (anthracite) operators. There was no public indication that the deadlock had been broken.

CED Estimates National Security Will Cost U.S. Twenty Billions Annually

URGE MOVES TO GUARD CIVILIAN RIGHTS, LIBERTY

By STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Committee for Economic Development (CED) estimated today that National Security will cost at least $20,000,000,000 a year for years to come.

In the face of this costly cold war defense, it urged definite action to: (1) safeguard civilian supremacy in the republic, (2) strengthen long-range security and (3) protect individual freedom.

The CED, an organization of business executives, said the $20,000,000,000 estimate on the annual cost of security for the next several years embraces several items: Military defense is the big one, followed by rearming on non-Communist nations, European recovery spending, atomic energy development, U.S. broadcasts overseas, and much of the government's diplomacy and intelligence work.

Transfusion of Leadership
One of its principal recommendations was for a transfusion of civilian leadership into the whole security program. The CED criticized today's preparedness planning as being "neither efficient nor in balance."

The report said that a powerful military machine can dominate the economy and, unless held in balance, "can destroy a free economy."

And, while urging continued strong action against subversive activities, it called for caution in the handling of "loyalty" inquiries. The CED declared:

Danger of Witch Hunts

"An atmosphere of suspicion favors the growth of political police agencies with power to investigate sometimes degenerate into organs of oppression and intimidation."

"Necessary investigations into loyalty can deteriorate into witch hunts which threaten the whole structure of individual freedom."

In summary the report stated "The fear of war may dominate our lives for a generation"; security outlays, abroad and at home, can impose a drain on the nation's resources and a strain on the free American society; and that it is time to bulwark the country against this hazard to its liberties.

Leads To Police State
"Security measures, uncurbed by the requirements of freedom, can undermine our free institutions," the business group said.

"Public apathy and the pressure for security can lead us along a dangerous road—a road that ends in what has aptly been called a garrison-police state."

The new report was the work of its research and policy committee, headed by Marion B. Folsom, treasurer of Eastman Kodak Co., and including such businessmen as Philip D. Reed, chairman of General Elec-

REP. J. C. KUNKEL ANNOUNCES FOR SENATE CONTEST

By LEONARD A. UNGER

Harrisburg, Dec. 14 (AP)—Odds for a Republican harmony ticket in 1950 shortened today in the wake of the announced candidacy of Congressman John C. Kunkel for U.S. senator.

The 51-year-old Harrisburg lawmaker sprung a surprise announcement of his quest for the GOP nomination despite considerable speculation that Gov. James H. Duff also will seek the post.

Kunkel has been associated as a follower of former U.S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy, Bristol manufacturer and leader of GOP factions opposed to the governor. Veiled Crack At "Kingmakers"

Duff has kept mum about his senatorial aspirations—if he has any—and said only this about Kunkel's candidacy yesterday. "According to my book he has the same right as anybody else to be a candidate for the Senate. I do not happen to belong to that small group of Republicans who feel that they alone have the right to name the candidates on the Republican ticket."

The governor did not identify the "small group" but it appeared as a veiled crack at GOP kingmakers who have chosen statewide candidates in the past.

M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman, said he had no comment on Kunkel's announcement. As Dauphin county GOP chieftain, Taylor supported Kunkel's congressional campaign in the past 10 years.

But he has indicated that Duff will be his man for senator next year to oppose the re-election aspirations of U.S. Sen. Francis J. Myers, Philadelphia Democrat.

Kunkel, a congressman since 1938, teed off at what he termed the "spend thrift extravagance" of President Truman's administration.

TOMBSTONE IS GIFT FOR BOY

Montoursville, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—

Eleven-year-old Bobby Lovell is going to get his Christmas wish—a tombstone for his mother's grave.

Bobby's mother died in October, 1948, and was buried in the Montoursville cemetery.

Several days ago, the youngster—who lives in a trailer camp with his father—an unemployed laborer on relief—decided to find his mother's unmarked grave. His search proved successful yesterday after he had enlisted the aid of Police Chief Stanley C. Zartman.

"Some day I'll have enough money to buy a marker for my mother's grave," Bobby told Zartman.

The police chief related the story to a newspaper and the J. E. Gibbons company offered to donate a tombstone, engrave it and have it in place by Christmas. Bobby examined the firm's stock, passed by a number of ornate stones and selected a two-by-three-foot marker. "I would like very much to have that one," he said. "Now I can find my mother's grave and put flowers on it."

Meanwhile, local merchants promised Bobby's Christmas would not be without gifts, including a permanent movie pass. And Zartman said he was making arrangements to find Bobby a new home "under a different environment."

Although the Cincinnati Reds won the National League pennant in 1939, they finished a full 16 points behind St. Louis in team batting.

Johnny Mize and Enos Slaughter, who finished among the top ten National League batters in 1939, still were active last season.

MACKS, BROWNS COMPLETE BIG BASEBALL DEAL

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—The drowsy winter baseball meetings were slow wakening up but when the shot came it was a corker—a deal between the St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia Athletics involving $100,000 and six players.

Connie Mack's pennant-anxious Athletics shelled out the $100,000 plus four players to the Browns to get one of the American league's top infielders, third baseman Bob Dillinger, and a good outfielder, Paul Lehner.

The $100,000 was the welcome part of the deal for the Browns whose president, Bill DeWitt, said, "I can't make any money at the gate. I've got to make it selling my best players."

But the Browns also received veteran third baseman Frank Gustine and three rookies—shortstop Billy Demars and outfielders Ray Coleman and Rocco Ippolito.

The deal, which busted the trading log-jam wide open, was closed shortly before midnight by DeWitt and Earle Mack, Connie's son and coach, who got together at Commissioner A. B. Chandler's dinner for the baseball moguls at a midtown night club.

Two other transactions earlier in the day involving the Boston Braves, Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs were tossed into a subordinate category by this fancy American league swap.

The Braves disposed of two that no law enforcement officers were available for protection. The school was placed on probation by the P.I.A.A.

C. F. Eisenhart, secretary of the district committee, said Tuesday morning that the P.I.A.A. will also censure all members schools of the conference for failing to have all game contracts in writing.

Mr. Eisenhart, who is principal of Steelton high school, said that a three-man sub-committee of the district group investigated the situation and found "that East Berlin was not in a position to continue football."

The three-man committee asserted that "East Berlin had a moral obligation to inform the other conference teams of their intent to drop football."

RAMS HOPE TO SOLVE STRONG EAGLE DEFENSE

Los Angeles, Dec. 14 (AP)—The midnight oil is burning and the day time hours are churning—as Coach Clark Daniel Shaughnessy tries to concoct some magical T-formula to crack the potent defense tactics of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Literally speaking, this is the scene as Shaughnessy and his skilled staff of grid technicians labor almost around the clock preparing the Los Angeles Rams for the struggle with the Eagles here Sunday for the National Football league championship.

No one, Shaughnessy included, is looking down his nose at the offense fashioned by Greasy Neale for the

PIAA CENSURES EAST BERLIN HI

East Berlin high was censured for the second time in three years by the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association Monday following a session by the District 3, P.I.A.A. committee at Hershey.

East Berlin dropped from the Little Seven Football Conference (now called the Laurel League) last fall without telling other members of the intent, it was charged by the league members in a protest filed before the committee.

The league, however, had only oral agreements among the schools as concerns schedules. The committee asserted that the P.I.A.A. cannot recognize oral agreements in handling protests.

The P.I.A.A., however, censured East Berlin for failure to notify the association and the district committee of the intent to drop football at the institution.

Several years ago, East Berlin high was involved in another P.I.A.A. scrap in a contest between East Berlin and Dallastown, an incident happened following the contest involving the officials. A protest was filed against East Berlin on the grounds

Interesting News Of Upper Adams Countians And Their Enterprises

EX-SAILORS NOW RAISING FRUIT, SHEEP

Two sailors who decided to get as far away from the sea as possible, following World War II, and landed in Adams county as fruit growers, are adding the raising of purebred sheep as a sideline.

The "sailors," Mr. and Mrs. Hugh W. Flanigan, near Ottantanna, are learning to farm under the GI Veterans' Agriculture program, and so far, they confess, they have found farming a profitable occupation.

In fact Mrs. Flanigan, a former Long Island, N. Y., nurse, claims she would never return to nursing or any other type of city-dwelling occupation. "Not now," she says, "now that I have been on a farm and found the freedom of farm life."

Never Farmed Before
Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Flanigan had never farmed before coming to Adams county.

They were born and raised in communities 30 miles apart, on Long Island. He entered the Navy as an apprentice seaman early in World War II, went to officer school, became an ensign aboard ships on submarine patrol along the eastern seaboard from New York to Cuba. Later he served in the Pacific, and was separated as a lieutenant, senior grade.

His officer's training in the Navy was a "good deal," Flanigan relates. For his training he was sent to Notre Dame university, and was stationed there throughout the entire football season. "I got to see all the home games," he recalls.

Met In California
While Flanigan was busy with sea duty Mrs. Flanigan was busy graduating from St. Luke's hospital in New York, where for two years she was on duty in the operating room. She then entered the Navy as a nurse and served two years, most of the time at San Diego and Oakland. It was at Oakland, 3,000 miles from home, that she met for the first time Hugh Flanigan, who had lived 30 miles from her in civilian life. Flanigan, who had been on submarine patrol in the east, had been transferred to Pacific duty about the same time his then wife-to-be was sent to California for duty.

The young sailors, home from the sea after World War II, decided to go to farming. Fruit seemed an ideal way of farm life. They read a catalogue and there seemed to be a farm in Adams county that fitted their desires and budget.

Thus they came to Adams county three years ago to start a way of life different from anything they had known before.

Improving Their Home
There was a magnificent view on the farm they bought—a view down across hills to Fairfield and beyond it to the South Mountains. But the previous owners had thoughtfully put up all kinds of sheds between the house and the view. Rather than climb to the top of a falling down sheds to see the view, they completed the job nature has started and tore down the sheds in front of the house.

They found there is much work to do on a farm and that husband and wife can work together at spraying, plowing, planting and all the other chores that need to be done in fruit farming. In between times they are working on their house, a room at a time, converting it into a modern home, as cash and time are available.

The sheep came in last year, when Flanigan complained to his Veterans Agriculture Class Instructor Edwin Rice that he could not find time to take care of the weeds in pasture area. Rice suggested sheep and helped them get a few.

Plan Purebred Flock
The sheep did a good job of keeping the "lawn mowed" and also proved valuable from sale of wool and mutton. The Flanigans decided to go further into the business. The original 10 in the flock have now increased to 40. In addition the Flanigans several weeks ago purchased four purebred Shropshire ewes and hope to get a purebred ram from the expected offspring. With that as their base, they hope eventually to have a completely purebred flock.

They have also learned that a farmer must look ahead if he wants to keep his books in the black. With the peach season coming on last summer, the outlook for disposal of the crop was dismal. The Flanigans looked at the Lincoln highway. A lot of people traveled it, they decided. They had some lumber and they could get hold of a plot of ground. The result was construction of a fruit stand about three miles east of here.

STATE SELLING SEEDLING TREES

Landowners have a better opportunity than ever before to secure seedling trees for timber production, shrubs and vines to provide food and cover for wildlife, according to the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters.

Twenty species of tree seedlings and 10 species of shrub and vine seedling stock will be available for 1950 spring planting, officials said. Included in the available tree seedlings are black walnut, black locust, Norway spruce, European larch, red oak, tulip poplar, Austrian pine, white pine and red pine.

Orders should be placed now to insure an early delivery of the desired stock. Applications for the trees and shrubs may be secured from any district forester or by writing to the Department at Harrisburg.

The smallest order acceptable is for 1,000 trees in lots of 500 of each species. For shrub and vine stock, 500 in lots of 100 of each species is the minimum. The price for both the tree and the vine stock is $6 per thousand f.o.b. the nursery.

Planting stock will be allocated in the order in which applications are received, officials said, until the available supply of each species is exhausted.

Seedlings purchased from the Department may also be used in the reclamation of areas affected by

Milton Berles Are Involved In Rift

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—A "definite rift" is reported between Comedian Milton Berle and his actress wife, who were remarried last June after a divorce.

The rift was confirmed on Monday open-pit mining, officials in the Department said.

by Lawyer Samuel I. Hartman, hired by Berle's wife, the former Joyce Matthews.

But there will be no announcement of possible plans for another divorce until Berle returns from a Florida vacation, the lawyer said.

Hartman said Mrs. Berle "has no desire to say anything disparaging about her husband, and does not display any bitterness."

SAYS GIRL MADE HIM PAY $9,000 WITH THREATS

Los Angeles, Dec. 14 (AP)—A trade school owner testified yesterday that fear of being exposed caused him to pay about $9,000 in extortion money to a shapely party girl and her roommate.

Ben H. Klekner told a superior court jury the money was paid at various times between 1946 and 1948 to red-haired Helen Keller, 25, and her friend, Toni Hughes, 26.

Miss Keller is formerly from Selinsgrove, Pa. and Miss Hughes of New Rochelle, N. Y.

Klekner admitted he promised to Miss Keller "as a party girl or prostitute on numerous occasions," and that he had sent her 13 or 20 times to friends and acquaintances, but he denied he ever seriously intended to marry her.

Klekner said Miss Hughes made frequent demands in behalf of her roommate. He testified she once came to his office with another woman, told him he was not paying Miss Keller enough, "and threatened to tear off her blouse and use the woman against me as a witness." He said he paid her.

Klekner said his relations with Miss Keller ceased in February, 1947, when he suffered a heart attack, and that he did not visit her again for five months. Then, in August when he was seeing her, he testified, Miss Hughes demanded that he be "responsible for Helen Keller's finances."

He said she asked for $10,000, cut it to $5,000, and then tried to effect a time plan method. Klekner said he had been paying sums all the time until last year, when he went to the district attorney.

The grand jury indicted the two young women on eight counts of extortion and attempted extortion and one count of conspiracy.

Klekner told the jury he had hired Miss Keller "as a party girl or prosti-

SUGGEST NUT, XMAS TREES FOR IDLE ACREAGE

Getting more cash income from what formerly was idle or waste land on their farms will be the objective for a large number of forward-looking Pennsylvania farmers when they go to the 34th annual Pennsylvania Farm Show in Harrisburg next January 9-13.

They are members of the Pennsylvania Christmas Tree Growers Association and members of the Pennsylvania Nut Growers Association.

Wise enough to have planted nut or evergreen trees on otherwise unproductive but suitable land—or even good crop land—members of these groups at scheduled Farm Show Week meetings will benefit from an exchange of experiences and reports by research workers in each field.

Included on the Christmas Tree Growers program is Mrs. Cyril G. Fox, Media, who will discuss highway zoning, and Dr. F. F. Linniger, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station at the Pennsylvania State College. Dr. Linniger plans to tell growers how the scope of research on the growing of Christmas trees on Pennsylvania farms and hillsides may be increased.

Nut growers are awaiting with interest a preliminary report at their Farm Show meeting on the tree crop survey now being made in Pennsylvania through a special appropriation by the 1949 General Assembly to the State Department of Agriculture. The report will be given by Dr. R. D. Anthony who, with L. Walter Sherman, is conducting the survey.

Interested non-members will be welcome at the Farm Show meetings of both state-wide associations, their officers say. The Christmas tree growers meet Monday afternoon, opening day of the Farm Show; nut growers Thursday morning and afternoon.

Improve Dairy Herd—Use a good bull to improve the dairy herd. J. S. Taylor, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, says that such a bull should be able to sire daughters better than the cows now in the herd. The best investment is a proved sire, the next best is a good son of a proved sire.

Protect the Bees—Are the bees ready for winter? According to W. W. Clarke, extension apiculturist of the Pennsylvania State college, one of the most important steps in successful wintering is a good windbreak. Anything can be used for a windbreak as long as it breaks the full force of the prevailing wind, usually from the west or north.

Save Locker Space—To conserve locker space in the freezer, you may want to bone some of the meat you butcher this winter. A beef carcass of medium or commercial grade will bone out about 60 pounds of lean meat for each 100 pounds of carcass.

Store Garden Tools—Be sure to clean and repair the garden tools and then store them where they will not get rusty by spring. J. O. Dutt, Penn State vegetable extension specialist, suggests rubbing oil on metal parts to prevent rusting.

Kill the Rats—Don't let the rats waste your feed and food. Kill them with poison bait. Penn State extension entomologists recommend fortified rat squill—in either powder or liquid form—as the safest rat poison to use around the premises.

Test Well Water—If your supply comes from a well, better have the water tested to be sure it is safe, reminds C. G. Burress, Penn State extension agriculture engineer.

Winterize Your Tractor—Don't take chances with your expensive tractor. If you continue to use it this winter be sure to have plenty of anti-freeze in it and change to winter oil. C. G. Burress, extension agricultural engineer of the Pennsylvania State college, suggests a 10 to 20 grade oil in the crankcase for easier starting and cutting down wear.

Remove Milkstone—Sometimes milking machine rubber parts and metal become coated with milkstone. Ivan Parkin, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, says that milkstone can be removed by merely soaking the affected parts in a solution of one-quarter cup of vinegar to two gallons of water for six to eight hours.

Salt May Poison Chicks—Go easy on salt in the chick-growing rations. Poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State college report several cases of heavy death loss among young chicks on poultry farms have been diagnosed as salt poisoning. Authorities are not agreed on the amount of salt needed by poultry and further tests are being made.

Save Chore Time—Mapping out a plan for doing the dairy barn chores can save a great deal of time and miles of walking. Labor-saving equipment includes an ensilage truck and feed chute.

Store Eggs Right—For best results until they are marketed, hold eggs at 40 to 55 degrees Fahrenheit and at about 75 per cent relative humidity, remind Penn State extension poultry specialists. Pack the eggs daily in cases allowed to absorb some moisture.

Control Orchard Mice—Save the orchard trees from damage by placing poison bait in the stations located earlier.

Thought Gun Was Empty; Man Shot

Frackville, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—James Williams, 23, was shot in the chest on Monday while helping the janitor clean up the basement of the Franklin school here. Today he was reported in serious condition at Ashland State hospital.

Chief Burgess George W. Miller said the shooting was accidental. He said Bernard McCauley pulled the trigger of a .22 caliber automatic, thinking it was empty. The bullet struck Williams.

The National Geographic Society says the Alaskan sealskin is so pliable it can be passed through a napkin ring.

Telephones and Talking Dogs

Telephone traffic is so heavy today that we sometimes think even the fabled talking dogs have switched to the telephone.

Seriously, though, this increased telephone traffic does prove two important points of progress: the growth of the community—and the expansion of telephone service. More people are using more telephones today than ever before. Each new telephone installed increases traffic—but at the same time it increases the range of usefulness of every other telephone. This means your telephone service has reached its greatest value to date—and it's growing every day.

Thought Gun Was Empty; Man Shot

Frackville, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—James Williams, 23, was shot in the chest on Monday while helping the janitor clean up the basement of the Franklin school here. Today he was reported in serious condition at Ashland State hospital.

Chief Burgess George W. Miller said the shooting was accidental. He said Bernard McCauley pulled the trigger of a .22 caliber automatic, thinking it was empty. The bullet struck Williams.

The National Geographic Society says the Alaskan sealskin is so pliable it can be passed through a napkin ring.

Telephones and Talking Dogs

Telephone traffic is so heavy today that we sometimes think even the fabled talking dogs have switched to the telephone.

Seriously, though, this increased telephone traffic does prove two important points of progress: the growth of the community—and the expansion of telephone service. More people are using more telephones today than ever before. Each new telephone installed increases traffic—but at the same time it increases the range of usefulness of every other telephone. This means your telephone service has reached its greatest value to date—and it's growing every day.

Interesting News Of Upper Adams Countians And Their Enterprises

EX-SAILORS NOW RAISING FRUIT, SHEEP

Two sailors who decided to get as far away from the sea as possible, following World War II and landed in Adams county as fruit growers are adding the raising of purebred sheep as a sideline.

The 'sailors,' Mr and Mrs Hugh W. Flanagan, near Gettysburg, are learning to farm under the GI Veterans Agriculture program, and so far, they confess, they have found farming a profitable occupation.

In fact Mrs Flanagan a former Long Island N. Y. nurse, claims she would never return to nursing or any other type of city-dwelling occupation. "Not now," she says, "now that I have been on a farm and found the freedom of farm life."

Never Farmed Before

Neither Mr nor Mrs Flanagan had never farmed before coming to Adams county.

They were born and raised in communities 30 miles apart on Long Island. He entered the Navy as an apprentice seaman early in World War II, went to officer school, became an ensign aboard ships on submarine patrol along the eastern seaboard from New York to Cuba. Later he served in the Pacific, and was separated as a lieutenant senior grade.

His officer's training in the Navy was a "good deal," Flanagan relates. For his training he was sent to Notre Dame university, and was stationed there throughout the entire football season. "I got to see all the home games," he recalls.

Met In California

While Flanagan was busy with sea duty Mrs Flanagan was busy graduating from St. Lukes hospital in New York, where for two years she was on duty in the operating room. She then entered the Navy as a nurse and served two years, most of the time at San Diego and Oakland. It was at Oakland, 3,000 miles from home, that she met for the first time Hugh Flanagan who had lived 30 miles from her in civilian life.

Flanagan, who had been on submarine patrol in the east, had been transferred to Pacific duty about the same time his then wife-to-be was sent to California for duty.

The young sailors, home from the sea after World War II, decided to go to farming. Fruit seemed an ideal way of farm life. They read a catalogue and there seemed to be a farm in Adams county that fitted their desires and budget.

Thus they came to Adams county three years ago to start a way of life different from anything they had known before.

Improving Their Home

There was a magnificent view on the farm they bought—a view down across hills to Fairfield and beyond it to the South Mountains. But the previous owners had thoughtfully put up all kinds of sheds between the house and the view. Rather than climb to the top of a falling down sheds to see the view, they completed the job nature has started and tore down the sheds in front of the house.

They found there is much work to do on a farm and that husband and wife can work together at spraying, plowing, planting and all the other chores that need to be done in fruit farming. In between times they are working on their house, a room at a time converting it into a modern home as cash and time are available.

The sheep came in last year when Flanagan complained to his Veterans Agriculture Class Instructor Edward Rice that he could not find time to take care of the weeds in pasture area. Rice suggested sheep and helped them get a few.

Plan Purebred Flock

The sheep did a good job of keeping the lawn mowed and also proved valuable from sale of wool and mutton. The Flanagans decided to go further into the business. The original 10 in the flock have now increased to 40. In addition the Flanagans several weeks ago purchased four purebred Shropshire ewes and hope to get a purebred ram from the expected offspring. With that as their base, they hope eventually to have a complete purebred flock.

They have also learned that a farmer must look ahead if he wants to keep his books in the black. With the peach season coming on last summer, the outlook for disposal of the crop was dismal. The Flanagans looked at the Lincoln highway. A lot of people traveled it, they decided. They had some lumber and they could get hold of a plot of ground. The result was construction of a fruit stand about three miles east of here.

STATE SELLING SEEDLING TREES

Landowners have a better opportunity than ever before to secure seedling trees for timber production, shrubs and vines to provide food and cover for wildlife, according to the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters.

Twenty species of tree seedlings and 10 species of shrub and vine seedling stock will be available for 1950 spring planting. Officials also include in the available tree seedlings are black walnut, black locust, Norway spruce, European larch, red oak, tulip poplar, Austrian pine, white pine and red pine.

Orders should be placed now to insure an early delivery of the desired stock. Applications for the trees and shrubs may be secured from any district forester or by writing to the Department at Harrisburg.

The smallest order acceptable is for 1,000 trees in lots of 500 of each species.

For shrub and vine stock, 500 in lots of 100 of each species is the minimum. The price for both the tree and the vine stock is $6 per thousand f.o.b. the nursery.

Planting stock will be allocated in the order in which applications are received, officials said, until the available supply of each species is exhausted.

Seedlings purchased from the Department may also be used in the reclamation of areas affected by open-pit mining, officials in the Department said.

Milton Berles Are Involved In Rift

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—A "definite rift" is reported between Comedian Milton Berle and his actress wife, who were remarried last June after a divorce.

The rift was confirmed on Monday.

by Lawyer Samuel I. Hartman, hired by Berle's wife, the former Joyce Matthews.

But there will be no announcement of possible plans for another divorce until Berle returns from a Florida vacation, the lawyer said.

Hartman said Mrs. Berle "has no desire to say anything disparaging about her husband, and does not display any bitterness."

Santa AND THE MAGICIAN

1 AM ZEPOP WHAT DO YOU WANT?

Chapter 9
THE WIGGLE WAGGLE CAVE

"Oh, My!" gasped Henry in terrible fear. "You must be one of the Wiggle Wagglers."

"Right you are," said the elfin creature. He took a strawberry-colored handkerchief and gave his nose three loud honks. All the while his saucer like ears wiggled and wagged like aspen leaves in a breeze. "Come, now. Follow me."

He turned into the woods. Henry did not know what to do. If these elves were as wicked as he had heard, should he not return to Santa Land as fast as his quaking legs could carry him? On the other hand, the creature said he had Santa's wand!

"I must go with him," decided Henry. "No matter how dangerous."

Immediately he started after the Wiggle Waggle. He cheered up when he thought how happy and surprised Mr. Dilly would be when he returned with the wand.

The Wiggle Waggle pushed on through the woods. Henry's feet sank deep into the snow but the Wiggle Waggle seemed to walk on top of the snow and have no weight at all. In fact he went so fast that Henry would have lost him if the Wiggle Waggle had not stopped from time to time to honk his nose.

At last Henry caught up. "Where do you live?" he asked breathlessly.

"Oh, the Wiggle Wagglers are scattered all over the world," said the creature. "You probably have heard us honking and never knew what it was. We're usually invisible you know."

Now Henry could remember many times lying in his bed at night and hearing strange noises in the black house of Mrs. Snell. Had it been one of the Wiggle Wagglers blowing his nose? he wondered with a shiver.

"But, now," went on the elf. "We have all come north because of course you know Santa is having a big party tomorrow. Simply everyone is invited. Everyone except the Wiggle Wagglers. We are quite angry about it and mean to pay Santa back."

This sounded very rude to Henry. He started to say that he thought the Wiggle Wagglers should just forget about it and maybe Santa would invite them the next time he had a party. But before he could say this, the Wiggle Waggle darted into a cave. When Henry followed him he very soon saw why Santa felt the Wiggle Wagglers should not come to any party of his.

For the Wiggle Wagglers appeared to be the most quarrelsome people in all of elfdom. What a honking and squalling and wagging of ears there was in that cave! Henry stood perfectly still and stared about in astonishment.

There were about a hundred blue-nosed, saucer-eared creatures pushing each other around. Some were slapping each other, some were kicking, some were pulling hair, and all of them were honking their noses and howling.

"Goodness!" cried Henry. "Why are they fighting?"

The creature who had led him there shrugged his shoulders. "We always squabble," he said matter-of-factly. "Can't help it."

One Wiggle Waggle ran across the cave dragging behind him another Wiggle Waggle by the hair. The two of them crashed against Henry and then rolled over and over, screaming and digging at each other with their nails.

Henry was so frightened he started out of the cave. But at that very moment there was an extra loud honking and a deep voice cried, "Be quiet, the boy from Santa Land is here!"

Instantly the Wiggle Wagglers quieted. The biggest and ugliest one then said to Henry, "I am Zezip. What do you want?"

"I—I won't stay long," stammered Henry. "I—I just came to get my wand—Santa's wand, that is."

"My brother, Humphrey, found the wand in the woods," said Zezip.

"Then—may I have it? It's really very important, you know."

"We know very well how important it is," snapped Zezip. "Are you going to Santa's party tomorrow?"

"Why, I suppose so," said Henry. Then he added, "If you did not squabble and quarrel so terribly I'm sure Santa would have invited you."

"We'll be there anyway," cried Zezip fiercely.

What could he mean? Perhaps he is not going to give me the wand, thought Henry in dismay. But at that very instant Zezip reached into his coat and pulled out a magic wand.

Overjoyed Henry grasped it. "Oh, thank you! You are very kind!"

And bursting with happiness he left the cave and ran towards Santa Land.

If only he had known! The wicked Zezip had kept Santa's wand and given Henry one Wiggle Waggle's wand which could work only evil magic.

Next: A Present for Henry.

AUSTRALIANS VOTE ROUSES BRITISH UNITS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Britain's Conservatives naturally are jubilant over the outcome of the New Zealand and Australian elections which have evicted their Socialist governments and replaced them with regimes calling for the restoration of private initiative.

The British Conservatives profess to believe that these upsets presage similar disaster for John Bull's Socialistic government in the forthcoming general election. The Socialists are saying little—and indeed there isn't much for them to say.

As a matter of fact one takes the liberty of doubting whether either Conservative Leader Winston Churchill or Socialist Prime Minister Attlee would be willing to bet his right arm that he can correctly interpret Britain's prospects on the strength of the Australian and New Zealand elections. This column pointed out Saturday that there is little similarity between the position of England and these dominions "down under."

On the other hand Britain is small, badly overcrowded and has few natural resources. She can't even grow the food to feed herself. The days are gone when she could replenish her glittering coffers by the simple expedient of importing raw materials, fabricating them and re-exporting them to the selfsame foreign lands whence they came.

The two prosperous dominions are naturally endowed to undertake free enterprise programs. And what is meant by "free enterprise?" Robert Gordon Menzies, who was Australia's prime minister from 1939 to 1941 and will be her new head of government, has summed it up as one in which ambition is encouraged, in which there are rewards for the courageous and the enterprising, in which "there is no foolish doctrine of equality between the active and the idle, the intelligent and dull, frugal and improvident." He adds:

Capable Of Recovery

"We must choose between the ancient British idea that the government is the servant of the people and the shabby, defeated continental idea that we are the servants of the government."

Has Britain reached an economic position which forces her to depart from the dashing days of the private initiative upon which her greatness was built? The Conservatives (referred to slightly as "Tories" by their opponents) emphatically deny that England has lost her punch and maintain that she is capable of recovery.

The Socialists also believe the country can recover, but by their acts have demonstrated that they think the rehabilitation must be achieved through welfare government, that and development of Britain's colonial resources.

So the thing simmers down to the proposition of which theory of government is right. The British voters must decide that at the next general election.
